

NATIVE PLANT LIST 2025

"L " MEANS SUPPLY LIMITED

- ❖ Agastache 'Blue Fortune' - AND 'Black Adder'. purple-blue flowers are superb bee attractors.
- ❖ Amsonia hubrichtii- light blue flower but grown for the gold fall color and great texture. Grow in Sun.
- ❖ Aquilegia canadensis Red Columbine earliest hummingbird attractor.
- ❖ Anemone canadensis - ground cover for sun or shade, fills in a space, nice white flowers.
- ❖ Arisaema triphyllum. Jack-in-the-pulpit is a woodland favorite.
- ❖ Aster novae-angliae New England Aster beautiful for late summer into fall.
- ❖ Aster 'Raydon's Favorite' - sky-blue flowers summer through fall. Loved by butterflies.
- ❖ Aster 'October Skies' fall blooming, blue-flowered beauty.
- ❖ Aster 'Snow Flurry' white ground cover
- ❖ Asclepias incarnata Swamp Milkweed likes moist site but takes average site. Food for monarch caterpillars.
- ❖ Asclepias syriaca Common Milkweed indispensable Monarch caterpillar food.
- ❖ Asclepias tuberosa Butterfly Weed. The beautiful orange milkweed must have sun and good drainage.
- ❖ Asarum canadense Wild Ginger. Great ground cover for shade to part-shade.
- ❖ Aruncus dioicus Goatsbeard is a dramatic plant for a well-drained part-shaded site. Attains the size of a small shrub. Flowers are feathery white.
- ❖ Carex - Scroll down to SEDGES for descriptions.
- ❖ Chelone glabra "white Turtlehead" for part-shade. Host for Checkerspot butterflies and other pollinators.
- ❖ Echinacea purpurea "Purple Coneflower" is the well-known one that is still the best.
- ❖ Eryngium yuccifolium "Rattlesnake Master" for a dry sunny site. Unique flowers that add interest to your native landscape.
- ❖ Eupatorium (now Eutrochium) fistulosum Joe Pye Weed is indispensable. For Swallowtails.
- ❖ Eupatorium coelestinum (now called Conoclinium) Blue self-seeding butterfly attractor.
- ❖ Eupatorium perfoliatum "Boneset" brings pollinators. Beautiful in sun.
- ❖ Heliopsis helianthoides 'Burning Hearts' Thia cultivar shows some red in the center of the gold summer flowers.

FERNS

Good Selection; see when visiting.

GRASSES

- ❖ Andropogon gerardii Big Bluestem is a meadow mainstay. We have "Blackhawks"
- ❖ Panicum 'Shenandoah' Red color on leaves in late summer to fall when in full sun.
- ❖ Panicum 'Nordwind" tall but doesn't fall
- ❖ Sorghastrum nutans "Indian Grass" nice with any other natives in your garden. Seed heads are great for birds.
- ❖ Sporobolus "Prairie Dropseed"
- ❖ Schizacharium 'Standing Ovation' is a great Little Bluestem that stands straight to about 3' tall, shows red color.
'SHINING STAR' - Special you must see!

MORE NATIVES

- ❖ Heuchera americana 'Dale's Strain' leaves are variegated with silver, for shade-part shade
- ❖ Heuchera 'Autumn Bride' Beautiful strong plant with large white flowers.
- ❖ Heuchera 'Palace Purple' tried and true favorite with lustrous purple leaves. Sun or shade.
- ❖ Heuchera 'Bronze Wave'
- ❖ Heliopsis helianthoides False sunflower is a mainstay for pollinators. Birds eat the seeds.
- ❖ Iris cristata 'Powder Blue Giant' large lovely blue flowers in spring. Forms a weed suppressing mat.
- ❖ Iris cristata 'Tennessee White' white flowered form.
- ❖ Iris fulva unusual copper flowers. Forms a beautiful clump in a sunny moist site.
- ❖ Lobelia cardinalis Cardinal Flower - don't let it dry out. Red spikes in sun or shade.
- ❖ Lobelia siphilitica "Great Blue Lobelia". Easy for shade to part-shade. Self-seeder. Pollinators
- ❖ Lonicera 'Major Wheeler' A gorgeous vine for hummingbirds.
- ❖ Monarda fistulosa Wild Bergamot enhances your meadow with lavender flowers for pollinators, especially butterflies.
- ❖ Monarda 'Jacob Cline' the most mildew-resistant monarda. Bright red flowers bring hummingbirds.
- ❖ Oenothera fruticosa "Sun Drops" Bright gold flowers in early summer and even blooms in the shade.
- ❖ Packera aurea Golden Ragwort for a nice patch of gold in shade.
- ❖ Penstemon digitalis is early blooming white flowered mainstay very reliable in sun.
- ❖ Phlox paniculata 'Jeanna' rose color. Choice from Mt. Cuba.
- ❖ Phlox paniculata 'Laura: Lovely purple.
- ❖ Phlox divaricata 'Blue Moon' lovely for the shade spring garden.
- ❖ Phlox stolonifera 'Sherwood Purple' for the woodland setting.
- ❖ Polemonium reptans Jacob's Ladder. We have selections of an antique clump (probably dug from the wild before folks knew better.). Refined plant with light blue flowers.
- ❖ Rudbeckia 'Goldsturm' is a reliable self-seeder. Fits in with any other natives for a long blooming show starting in mid-summer.
- ❖ Rudbeckia laciniata "Green-Headed Coneflower" a super plant grows tall for your meadow garden with grasses or near a fence.
- ❖ Solidago 'Fireworks' is graceful, A class act Goldenrod
- ❖ Solidago flexicaulis "zigzag Goldenrod" adds color in shade.
- ❖ Spiranthes odorata. Native terrestrial orchids, fragrant white spires in fall. Needs moist site.
- ❖ Sedum ternatum. This native sedum is lovely in bloom when it's full of white flowers in shade, but a good ground cover any time.
- ❖ Silphium perfoliatum "Cup Plant" needs room and a moist site. Outstanding! INQUIRE
- ❖ Spiranthes odorata "Fragrant Ladies' Tresses" is a native terrestrial orchid. Spikes of white flowers in late summer. Need a moist location. The morning sun is good.
- ❖ Tiarella "Foamflower" -groundcover for shade, white spring bloom.
- ❖ Tiarella 'Running Tapestry'. This Foamflower spreads and can fill in a shady space where you need a ground cover.
- ❖ Zizia aurea "Golden Alexander" for butterflies and early bloom.

SEDGES

- ❖ Carex apalachica A lot like Pennsylvanica but takes drier site
- ❖ Carex amphibola.
- ❖ Creek Sedge - Fountain-like clumps. bright green. For shade in moist to medium soil. 12 - 18" Host plant for Skipper caterpillars. Seeds eaten by birds. Fills in quickly.
- ❖ Carex eburnia. Ivory or Bristle-leaf Sedge; Dense clumps of fine green leaves 6 - 10" high. will take sun. Will stand dry soil but average is best.
IMPORTANT early food source for birds. A good choice for lawn replacement.
- ❖ Carex flaccosperma Blue Wood Sedge. A low-growing clump-former with broad bluish leaves. Best in moist areas. Good for replacing the popular non-native Liriope.
- ❖ Carex grayii Bur Sedge - A great rain garden subject. A highly ornamental sedge with Slowly spreading clumps of narrow leaves and unique spherical greenish flowers. for part sun or part shade in moist to wet soil.
- ❖ Carex musking umensis Palm Sedge - Ok for sun if the area does not get too dry. also ok for shade and for wet area. An interesting foliage suggests palm leaf. You can't go wrong with this one!
- ❖ Carex Pennsylvania
Popular lawn substitutes sometimes called "sod-forming" takes a wide range of light conditions and soil. A great ground cover under trees.
- ❖ Carex plantaginea Seersucker Sedge - 12" clumps of lime-green puckered broad leaves. Very hardy in part shade. Prefers moist site but tolerates some dryness. Butterfly host plant. Seeds are food for woodland birds
- ❖ Carex platyphylla. Broad-leaf Sedge - Wide blueish leaves on clump forming plant. About 10" tall and wide VERY LIMITED. Part-shade is best. NEXT YEAR MAYBE
- ❖ Carex radiata. Eastern Star Sedge - Fine textured clumps of medium green. For full or part shade. Should not completely dry out. Looks especially good when several planted together.

SHRUBS

- ❖ Aronia arbutifolia Red Chokeberry
- ❖ Aronia melanocarpa Black Chokeberry
- ❖ Chionanthus virginicus Fringetree SPRING
- ❖ Cephalanthus Oxidentalis Buttonbush
- ❖ Oakleaf Hydrangea Snow Queen
- ❖ Lindera benzin Spicebush SPRING
- ❖ Viburnum dentatum SPRING
- ❖ Winterrberry 'Maryland Beauty'
- ❖ Magnolia virginia Sweet Bay Magnolia
- ❖ Viburnum nudum 'Brandywine' SPRING
- ❖ Myrica ennsylvanica Bayberry

SMALL TREES

- ❖ Redbud
- ❖ Pagoda Dogwood
- ❖ White Dogwood
- ❖ Serviceberry